The Daviess County Board of Education is seeking an individual with the leadership qualities essential to creating and advancing a shared vision of excellence by taking innovative approaches in meeting the needs of students and staff. This person needs to demonstrate a passionate work ethic and must continuously model integrity by building trust through character and competency.

A successful candidate will possess a broad background in education and significant experience with Kentucky core content and assessment. This individual needs to have strong interpersonal skills, including accessibility, approachability, and superior communication skills. This leader will also be expected to develop the leadership potential in others.

Located on the southern banks of the Ohio River, Daviess County (Owensboro, Ky.) is the industrial and cultural hub of Western Kentucky. The community supports and values education at every level. The DCPS District includes 12 elementary schools, three middle schools, two traditional high schools and one alternative high school. Total enrollment is approximately 11,500 students in grades P-12. DCPS has about 1,700 employees and operates on an annual budget of about $107 million.
